

DIVERSITY IN ACTION

VOL 4. SUMMER 2023

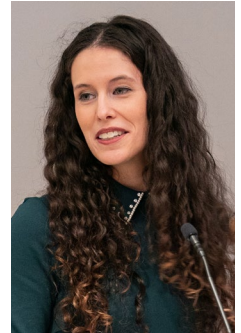

DEAN'S NOTE

As we come to the end of another academic year, we invite you to celebrate the accomplishments of our amazing students, faculty, and staff who have contributed to the excellence of SEAS through their research, teaching, and service. We also want to recognize the myriad of ways we have come together as a community to support one another in our learning and growth around topics related to inclusive excellence. Looking ahead, we encourage you to devote time this summer focused on wellness and building connection.

People of Princeton

Postdoctoral Research Associate: Lauren Taylor
“I’ve always had this idea that when I became a faculty member, I would start a program like Princeton Women in CBE. As a postdoc here, I was lucky that the CBE department and the @eprinceton Office of Diversity and Inclusion provided funding, space and encouragement for me to pursue this idea, even though I’m not yet a faculty member.” READ MORE

Professional Development Programs

We kicked off another year of our Princeton Pathways into the Academy (PPIA) with a 2-day series of faculty panels on November 30-December 1. We had current faculty panelists from multiple institutions and multiple fields across engineering supporting future faculty by discussing topics such as:

- ➔ Why Pursue an Academic Career in Engineering?
- ➔ Things Learned as a First Year Faculty Member
- ➔ How to Approach the Search Process
- ➔ What Search Committees Look for
- ➔ Unpacking Tenure
- ➔ Practices to Build an Inclusive Research Group and Learning Environment

Diversity Champions Program

SEAS community members from varied departments come together for instruction in the Diversity Champions. While this program is mostly independent and can be performed remotely, the participants get together quarterly for lunch to bond and connect over what lessons they've learned. READ MORE

Events

Lecturer Donna Gabai, Professors Craig Arnold, and Celeste Nelson, and McGraw Senior Associate Director Jessica Del Vecchio discuss inclusive teaching practices.
